Army Balloon Struck By Lightning While Competing in Race

Total of Three Balloons Destroyed and Five Aeronauts Meet Death in Gordon Bennett International Race—Lieutenants Olmstead and Choptaw Victims.

(By The Associated Press)
BRUSSELS, Sept. 24.—U. S. Army Balloon S-6, competing in the Gordon Bennett International Race, was struck by lightning last evening and Lieutenant Olmstead and Choptaw, her occupants, were killed.

This was the third balloon to be destroyed in the race. Five aeronauts have been killed.

The S-6 was destroyed near Nisselrode, Province of North Brabant, in Holland, the Aero Club of Brussels officially announced.

United States Navy Balloon A-999 has landed at Pruten, Holland, near the Zuyder Zee. Lieutenants Lawrence and Reichelderfer, comprising her crew, are safe.

Official advice confirms the destruction of the Spanish Balloon Polaris and the Swiss Balloon Geneva, as well as the death of three other aeronauts.

The Geneva was struck by lightning near Beverloo and burned in mid-air at an altitude of one thousand feet. Peasants who ran to the spot found the dead bodies of Lieutenant Von Gruningen and Lieutenant Wehr.

The Polar also caught fire from a bolt and fell near Hyst-Goor. Her pilot, Penaranda Barca, was killed and his assistant, Gomez Guilmartin, whose fall was broken when an eddy of wind blew the car against a tree top, received fractures of both legs and other injuries.

One of the American contestants, the St. Louis, was unable to take part in the race. She burst into flames at the start when the pressure of the anchor rope proved too strong. The other two American entries, the Army S-6 and the Navy A-999 had narrow escapes at the start. The S-6 collided with the Belgian entry Ville De Bruxelles, damaging the latter. The A-999 barely avoided collision with some of the other balloons.

G. Blanchet, piloting the Penaranda III, a French entry, landed safely near Antwerp last evening, while the storm, in the midst of which the balloonists left Brussels, was most severe.

Official Death List.

Lieutenant Olmstead and Lieutenant Choptaw, of the U. S. Army Balloon S-6.

Lieutenant Von Gruningen and Lieutenant Wehr of the Swiss Balloon Geneva.

Penaranda Barca, of the Spanish Balloon Polar.

Gomez Guilmartin, assistant to Barco in the Polar, was seriously hurt.

The U. S. Army A-999 and the Penaranda III, French entry, piloted by G. Blanchet, were the only balloons reported up to noon today, as having landed safely.

In view of the terrific storm which broke out half an hour after the last balloon took off and which was raging over Northern Belgium and Holland and neighboring North Sea waters until 10 o'clock last night, fears are entertained for the safety of the ten balloonists not yet heard from. These are Bismarck and Ravanne Balloon Picardy, France; De Myster and

DANVILLE ROAD SIGNS PLANNED ON BIG SCALE

Preliminary steps towards widespread advertising of Danville as a tourist center were taken this morning when the representatives of several local organizations met at the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting, which was attended by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association, Kiwanis, Lions Rotary clubs and the Danville Automobile Association, was called for the purpose of discussing ways and means of raising $1,500 towards the Virginia Good Roads Association funds of $25,000 with which to finance the bond issue campaign.

It was decided not only to raise that sum but a like amount to pay the cost of advertising Danville on the highways which lead through Danville from north to south and east to west and to advertise Danville in "The Blue Book," a publication which is consulted by tourists of which there are a growing number. Steps taken today taken in conjunction with the project already being worked on to provide a tourist camp indicated a decided move towards capturing Danville's fair share of the tourist trade next Spring and Summer.

Those attending the meeting today concurred in a resolution providing a new committee which will have in hand the collection of the three thousand dollars. C. G. Hoiland, is chairman, R. C. Thompson, A. B. Crowell, Col. W. M. Kemper and L. Herman.

This committee will work out the details of the signs to be placed on the roads leading to Danville. It tentatively planned to start these road signs as far north as Natural Bridge and continuing them south through Lynchburg and all intermediate points and carrying them as far south as Charlotte, N. C. Roads running from East to West through Danville would also be properly advertised and arrows point to Danville giving the mileage would be seen soon after leaving Richmond and extending as far as Roanoke. It is believed that this form of advertising will be beneficial to the city. Discussion during today's meeting turned on the official name which should be given the north to south route which comes through Danville. "The Virginia Highway" being a suggestion which apparently met with favor.

Wife Of Ward Takes Stand As Witness In Murder Hearing

Half Sobs, Half Smiles, Her Parries to Attorneys' Interrogations—She Shakes Nervously After Fifteen Minutes on Stand—Sympathetic Sobs Heard Over Courtroom.

(By The Associated Press)
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Ward took the stand today as a witness in the case in which her husband is charged with murder in the first degree of Clarence Peters, of Haverhill, Mass.

Spectators took all of the 250 seats lined up against the walls when Mrs. Ward came in accompanied by her wife who had previously spent half an hour with him in the county jail. The pair walked in smiling, and ignoring the spectators, calmly took the seats they have occupied since the trial began.

Ernest H. Stolz, of New Rochelle, a friend of the Ward family, was called before Mrs. Ward testified. He said he was at the Ward home on the evening Peters was killed and saw Mrs. Ward there from 8 o'clock until 12:30 with Ward's relatives and friends but that he did not see Ward himself.

There was a hush over the crowded courtroom when the defendant's wife mounted to the stand. She sat down as she sat in the chair but when the questioning began she dried her eyes with her small handkerchief and tried to smile.

She said that the first she saw of her husband was on the night of the killing. She was sitting in the room when he came in and she saw him enter the room and awaken her. Answering her husband's attorneys, she testified that it was possible for her husband to have been home earlier and for her not to have heard from until he came into her room.

Asked if he offered any explanation why he visited her so late, Mrs. Ward replied that he did. Justice Wagner upheld the contention of the defense that Mrs. Ward could not be called upon to testify what her husband had said to her.

"Was his explanation satisfactory?" asked the prosecutor.

"Yes," she replied.

Mrs. Ward was apparently composed as she parried the interrogation but her voice was so soft that her answers were almost inaudible to the spectators, who leaned forward in their chairs to catch every word. At times her answers were so low when she was questioned by Attorney General Sherman that the court clerk had to repeat them for the records and the jury.

Still suppressing her sobs, Mrs. Ward testified that when the first jury trial started the investigation in the killing of Peters, it was announced her husband was immediately implicated, she went to Bermuda. After she had been there some weeks she said she could not come home to see her children and so to some other resort. This was arranged, she added, and she took the children to Atlantic City.

To the questions of the attorney General, she answered that she remained there out of jurisdiction of the court.

Former Resident Dies In Winston

Private intelligence received here this morning of the death of E. W. Dixon, a former well known Danville resident and prominent in the leaf tobacco industry. Mr. Dixon passed away at his home at eleven o'clock this morning after a decline in health lasting six weeks. Last week a sudden turn for the worse came when he was overcome with a paralytic stroke. The body will be brought to Danville for interment. It will be brought across country, arriving in this city about four o'clock, interment to be made on arrival.

Mr. Dixon for many years was a partner with O. Wendle in the local firm of Wendle and Dixon. During his life here he was several times elected president of the Danville Tobacco Board of Trade. For several years he was a member of the Danville Board of Trade. He was a member of the Methodist church and was for several years a layman in the Danville church. He was a member of the Danville Methodist church of Winston.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, who were formerly of Danville. He was married to Mrs. Dixon, who was formerly of Danville. He was a member of the Danville Methodist church of Winston.

Ask Architects To Submit Plans For New City Home

Further steps were taken today towards perfection of plans for a new city home. The commission held a meeting at noon today and it was decided to avail of the offer made by several of the city architects to submit rough sketches of a city home without cost to the commission. The commission unanimously decided this morning to accept within the amount of money which has been set aside on the council budget for the city home, this being $20,000, and to proceed with the plans with that end in view. The commission plans to hold another meeting as soon as the rough sketches from which it could formulate some idea as to the character of the new city home, have been submitted. The chairman of the commission stated today that it was the intention of the commission to make a rapid progress as was noted in the hope that the new home might be got under way before winter sets in. It is known that several members are hopeful that the inmates of the almshouse may be moved from their present inadequate quarters before winter is over.

Dr. R. W. Garnett, John R. Harrell and Bryant Heard went to Roanoke, N. C. yesterday and visited the home which is being built there by the commissioners of Person county, N. C.

Miss Elizabeth K. Richardson is visiting friends in Alaska before returning to resume her studies at Harrisonburg Normal School.

"Red" Renzold returned to Baltimore this morning to resume his studies at the University of Maryland.

The condition of Mrs. R. W. Garnett, who recently was reported quite ill at her country home at Mt. Hermon, is much improved.

Misses Ida and Jessie Patterson, of Chatham, spent the week-end with Mrs. Rupert Lewis, Virginia avenue.

Town Topics

The total rainfall in Danville from sunset on Saturday to sunrise Sunday morning was 1.88 inches, according to the government rain gauge maintained by H. M. Watkins. The rainfall recorded began at about nine o'clock and continued intermittently when the tropical deluge fell at about ten minutes to one o'clock.

The Parent-Teachers Association of Robert E. Lee school will hold a meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the school auditorium to which all parents of children attending that school are invited.

The executive committee of the Community Welfare Association will hold a meeting at five o'clock this afternoon to discuss and act on the report of the committee on by-laws which will be presented.

Rice Gwynn, whose handsome new apartment at the corner of Broad and Main street was completed several weeks ago and which now is occupied has been christened "Caswell" for the famous North Carolina county. The apartment will henceforth be known as "The Caswell" in keeping with the plate which has just been affixed to the Main street wall.

The final shipment of new street cars ordered by the Danville Traction and Power Company arrived Saturday night, the three vehicles being unloaded Saturday and moved to the barns under their own power Saturday evening and night. The five new cars will be put in service as soon as they have been adjusted by mechanics at the car barns.

Work was started today on a handsome new home which is to be built by Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rushworth on Randolph street. The building project indicates that the brick two-story home will represent an investment of $16,000. Plans prepared by Heard and Chesterman provide for a ten-room dwelling with two stories in height. The contract has been awarded to H. A. Osborne and Son.

The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce held a meeting on Saturday with a view to planning for a proper observance in this city of Fire Prevention Week which is sponsored by the National Board of Fire Underwriters in an effort to direct attention to the tremendous monetary loss in this country incurred annually through the destruction of property which is due to carelessness. It was decided to turn the matter over to the Public Welfare Committee of the Chamber of Commerce James T. Catlin, Jr., and R. K. Linville, city engineer, being appointed ex officio members of the committee to aid in the drawing up of plans. The committee will meet this week to discuss plans and preparations for the "week" which will begin October 7th.

Six members of the board of trustees of the Tobacco Board met at five o'clock on Saturday evening to act on the letter received from the Danville Ku Klux Klan seeking permission to use the auditorium one day in November. There are thirteen members of the board and as six did not constitute a quorum the meeting adjourned until tomorrow when it is expected that most of the members will be present.

The Coast Defense band gave its first concert at Ballou Park on Sunday afternoon before a large crowd of people. The concert was given by about five or six hundred people gathered about the pavilion to hear the programme.

Must Act On e Land Lease In Alabama Tonight

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Action by the war department before night on the question involved in the government's Gorgas Steam Power plant on land in Alabama, owned by the Alabama Power Company, was forecast today by Secretary Weeks after a conference with President Coolidge.

The secretary indicated that the matter with the President for that half an hour. The lease held by the government to the Alabama Power Company's land expires tonight at midnight. The Gorgas Steam Power plant is embraced in the war built Muscle Shoals project and was included by Henry Ford in his offer to buy and lease that project.

Mr. Ford recently was given an opportunity by the government to exclude the Gorgas plant from his offer. Alabama Power Company having previously offered to buy the government's interest at what has been described by officials as a fair price.

Mr. Ford took the proposal under consideration and Secretary Weeks said today that he had been in receipt of a communication from the Detroit manufacturer. The details of Mr. Ford's communication, however, were not immediately made public, the secretary saying he preferred to wait until a decision in the matter has been reached. The government has been endeavoring to obtain a further extension of the lease, possibly until November 1.

AUTO COLLISION ON NORTH MAIN STREET ON SUNDAY

A new sport model Buick machine owned and driven by J. H. Law, yesterday afternoon late, sideswiped a Ford sedan driven by W. J. Adams, turning off a rear wheel. The accident occurred on North Main Street near the intersection of the Bradley road. Both machines were going in the same direction, the Ford being in front. Law is said to have attempted to pass the Ford. He cut to the left but did not go far enough to clear the car. His bumper caught the wheel of the Ford and tore it loose. The Buick was not damaged. Law was placed under arrest for driving a car under the influence of whiskey. He was this morning arraigned in court on the charge but his case was set for tomorrow.

First Formal Address

President speaks formally at Red Cross convention for first time since becoming chief executive—Praises organization.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—President Coolidge headed the list of speakers at the opening session today of the annual convention of the American Red Cross. Nearly 1,000 delegates assembled to hear the President, as presiding officer, deliver his first formal address since he took the oath of office.

Ambassador Hanihara, of Japan, for whose earthquake sufferers the Red Cross has just completed one of the most important relief campaigns of its history, and Colonel William N. Haskell, director of American relief in Russia and Greece, were among other speakers on the program.

A deep faith in spiritual things, tempered by hard common sense adapted to the needs of the world is the kind of practical idealism that is represented in the history of America, President Coolidge said today in an address before the annual convention of the American Red Cross. The people, he added, are not likely to adopt any other course.

Adele Ryan Hurt In Auto Crash; Lewis Norrie Dead

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Miss Adele Ryan, debutante daughter of John B. Ryan and granddaughter of Thomas Fortune Ryan, financier, was in a critical condition today in the Bronx Branch (N. Y.) hospital, the victim of an automobile crash early Sunday morning at Asbury Park which cost the life of Lewis Gordon Norrie, Princeton hockey star and son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gordon Norrie, of New York.

Hospital authorities declined to detail Miss Ryan's injuries or give the names of the others of the party who were hurt.

Norrie and his friends, in two automobiles, according to police, were speeding to his aunt's home at Red Bank, N. J., from a roadhouse, at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, when Norrie's car, which was proceeding, collided head-on with an automobile driven by Lester Obadiah, of New York, demolishing both cars. The second car in the Norrie party did not stop and the injured lay for five minutes in a driving rain before they were taken to the hospital in a private car.

Chief of Police White, of Neptune township, said there was liquor in one of the cars of Norrie's party.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 24.—Testimony describing the burning of three houses in Tulsa in one night by a party of masked men was heard by Gov. J. C. Walton's military commission as investigation into hooded band activities was resumed. A high officer of the commission declared in an interview with newspaper men.

The burning ceremony performed in the center of the field in Creek county, adjoining Tulsa county, while the bridegroom was chained to a gas engine with pistols leveled at his head was absolutely unheard by the military commission this morning.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 24.—The house separating the Oklahoma legislative and executive clash narrowed down to 45 days with the line drawn tant between Governor J. C. Walton and those members of the House of Representatives who seek to indict him as the preliminary step toward impeachment proceedings.

Today brought more witnesses and more testimony at both the Tulsa and Oklahoma City military court. Charges of riot were expected to be made in Oklahoma City against participants in a lashing party alleged to have been led by N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma Ku Klux Klan.

Jewett's trial on a charge of riot probably will be postponed tomorrow to permit additional information being obtained by military against other supposed members of the party.

Wednesday noon the House of Representatives is called to meet in extraordinary session despite the national guard force which paces up and down in front of the House and Senate.

Final court action seeking a restraining order is threatened by the house members if the executive attempts to block the session by force or throw any of the members in jail for the remainder of the three year term. The governor would welcome such a legal test, he said last night. Such action may come between now and Wednesday noon, the hour set for the House call.

Governor Walton has assailed the house session as a gathering of "Klan braggarts" who were there to block the session. He asserted that a majority of the members who signed the call were, or had been, members of the inviolable empire.

PEANUT SUIT ENDED OUT OF COURT TODAY

(By The Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Sept. 24.—The $3,525,000 suit of the Peanut Growers' Association against a dozen or more big cleaners and shellers of Virginia and North Carolina was today settled out of court.

Announcement to this effect was made this morning when Judge U. Lawrence Groser convened United States district court, which had been recessed from Friday.

Lawrence L. Levy, chief counsel for the Growers' Association, submitted a motion, asking that the case be dismissed. In brief, Mr. Levy stated that it was the hope of the principals on both sides that a continuance of the hearing would do damage to the peanut industry as a whole.

Inasmuch as both the plaintiff and defendants were vitally interested in the successful development of the industry, he said, it was of moment to both that nothing be done which would work injury to the industry.

Judge Groser expressed his willingness to agree to the motion, and preparation of the formal order, dismissing the case, is now underway.

The suit, which was brought by the growers under the Sherman anti-trust act for three-fold damages, alleged to have been suffered by the plaintiff in handling the 1921 crop, went on trial before Judge Groser last Monday. In its evidence the plaintiff sought to show a conspiracy to depress the price of peanuts, by which it claimed it suffered losses of $1,200,000.

Baltimore Beauty Is Grateful For Way Tanlac Helped Her

Miss Grace Walters, nationally known dancer and model, who resides at 1612 Friendsbury St., Baltimore, Md., is an ardent champion of Tanlac. "Last spring, while working through the West," said Miss Walters, "I suffered a complete breakdown, and was compelled to give up and come home before my season was over. I kept getting worse until a friend of mine persuaded me to try Tanlac. I was so nervous I was actually afraid to ride in an automobile, and never knew what a good night's sleep meant, and besides, had no appetite."

"Today, thanks to Tanlac, I am in better physical condition than I was a long time, and my nerves are steady as nerves can be. I can sleep twelve hours on a stretch, am always hungry, and have already gained six pounds. Tanlac is really wonderful."

Makes First Formal Utterance Since He Took Oath of Office

The men who went to the rescue of Europe when their own liberty and lives of the world was in peril, but who, after victory was secured, retired from the field "uncumbered by spoils, independent, unattached and unbought."

President Coolidge's address, his first formal public utterance was devoted to praise of the qualities which have made the Red Cross a success. Chief among these, he said, was its practical idealism.

"The American Red Cross is a modern application of an ancient principle," the President said. "The idea of charity is very old. It is included in the teachings of the earliest philosophers. It is one of the fundamental doctrines of our Bible. It is a spiritual conception of human relationship. It is life in obedience to the things that are unseen."

Throughout history men have been prone to put their trust in over things and have failed. They have sought for power through material resources alone. They have thought it might be gained by the accumulation of great riches. They have attempted to rely upon the armed forces of armies and navies, conquering by the might of the sword. But these forces are not the ultimate rulers of mankind. They are necessary for surety the criminal courts and bolts and bars are necessary. They are adjuncts of peace, but they are not the ultimate forces. They do not create, they resist. They are not the ultimate force in the world. They do not make the final determinations among men. Over them all is a higher power.

President Coolidge has not yet discarded the use of these forces. It is significant, however, that the great nations have at last agreed upon their limitation. But it is even more significant that civilization is coming to rely more and more upon moral force. It is here the American Red Cross has been a practical application of that principle, that it has been such a tremendous success. It makes its appeal for support direct to conscience of mankind. It is the only organization that function through direct action of organized government. It does not have in it any element of compulsion. It is the voluntary offering of the people themselves. Whenever and wherever an emergency arises, it is the strength of the strength of its ability to administer whatever may be necessary for temporary relief.

"It is in this direction that there lies the hope of progress. The ancient ideals of human brotherhood, the golden rule, peace on earth, and good will to all men, are idle dreams, unless they can be translated into practical action. It is necessary, on the one hand, to avoid the illusions of the visionaries, and on the other hand, the indifference of the selfish. Each individual and each nation owe their first duty to themselves. Beyond that there is the obligation of the strong to the weak. It is the duty of the strong to administer such service in a way that will not destroy or degrade by making medicaments but will restore and strengthen by making character. It is the policy which helps in an emergency to realize that finally, each individual of the nation must work out their own destiny."

"The constant need of civilization is for a practical idealism of this kind. It does not attempt to perform the impossible. It does not seek to reform merely by an act of legislation, thinking it can unload its burden on the government and be relieved from further effort. It does not undertake to assume responsibility for all humanity. But it realizes that redemption comes only through sacrifice. When a crisis arises, it does not hesitate to go out and make whatever sacrifice is necessary to meet the occasion."

"It is this kind of practical idealism that is represented in the history of our country, a deep faith in spiritual things, tempered by a hard common sense, adapted to the needs of this world. It has been illustrated in the character of the men who planted colonies in the wilderness and raised up great states around the church and schoolhouse, who bought their independence with their blood and cast out slavery by the sacrifice of their bravest sons, who offered their lives to give more freedom to oppressed people; and who went to the rescue of Europe with their treasure and their men when their own liberty and the liberty of the world was in peril; but when the victory was secure, retired from the field unencumbered by spoils, independent, unattached, and unbought, still continuing to contribute lavishly to the relief of the stricken and destitute of the old world; and who, but recently, being asked for five million dollars, immediately gave about twice that amount for the afflicted people of Japan. Such has been the moral purpose that has marked the conduct of our country up to the present hour."

"The American people have never adopted and are not likely to adopt any other course."

"A contemplation of these principles and the works which they have wrought, both in our country and among the other nations, for this spirit is world-wide, is helpful and reassuring. They are among the convincing evidences that justify our faith in mankind. They reveal the fundamental strength of civilization. They demonstrate the supremacy of the spiritual life."

"Here we behold the race struggling up through barbarism, overcoming ignorance, and instituting government, painfully working out their own destiny under free institutions, acknowledging and accepting the truths of religion, gradually casting aside selfishness, endowing the great charities which heal the body, inform the mind and minister to the soul, making on every hand unending sacrifices that the truth may be supreme. Such is the strength of the influence of which this organization is one of the representatives. It is inconceivable that it should have come thus far only to retreat, that it could have succeeded up to the present time only to fail."

"These are the encouraging, the hopeful things of the world. While it is necessary to admit that progress has been slow, that there have been and undoubtedly will be many disheartening failures, I believe the conclusion to be inescapable that there is every warrant for confidence. The encouraging feature of these results lie in the fact that they come from the voluntary actions of the people. They are not mandates from privilege; they are not impossible from without; they arise from within; they disclose the conquering, the victorious struggle of a higher nature. They do not represent a law of man, they reveal a law of God."

"It is for these reasons that I take a large satisfaction in extending a welcome to this convention, and acting as its presiding officer. I respect it for what it has done and what it is. I am mindful of its purpose and its origin. This organization had its beginning in the days of Abraham Lincoln. It is representative of the influences of his time. It partakes of his spirit. It shows the way to a larger freedom. Our country could secure no higher commendation no greater place in history than to have it correctly said that the Red Cross is truly American."

Good Morning Judge!

Moonshine liquor did funny things yesterday and last night to those who partook of it. Andrew Standfield, colored, who had been sworn in as an officer of Almagro, and who was given a large pistol and a blackjack, last night landed himself in jail. Standfield manifested his authority as an officer and had proceeded to place under arrest an aged and crippled colored man whom he charged with being drunk. As it turned out the man arrested was turned loose and the "officer" placed in jail for being drunk. This morning the "officer" was assessed ten dollars and costs for being drunk.

Last night local police officers were sitting around in the police station waiting for relief time. Two negroes came in. One was an old man walking with the aid of a cane and the other was a younger negro, who walked in a wobbly fashion and whose eyes seemed somewhat languid. The aged man began to relate to the police that he had been arrested for being drunk. The police at once wanted to know who arrested him. The man pointed to Standfield, who was asked if he was an officer. He replied that he was and pulled the lapel of his coat back and exhibited a large shining badge.

After some little time the situation was understood. The white lightning had been working on Standfield's mind. Intoxicated himself, he proceeded to arrest the cripple for being drunk. When he brought him to the police station, the reverse was revealed. Standfield was taken charge of and searched. A large .38 British Bulldog pistol was taken out of his pocket. He was also relieved of a blackjack and a baseball. The aged negro was released and told to go home and Standfield was taken down to the jailhouse by Officers Dameron and Rankin.

Fourteen cases of drunkenness were on the police blotter this morning. There were all sorts of denials and excuses offered.

Two cases of driving automobiles while drunk were also disposed of. E. D. Shopshire and W. S. Baines were assessed $101 and costs for driving automobiles while under the influence of whisky and in each case their permit to drive was automatically revoked. A similar charge against J. H. Law was set for tomorrow.

A raid on an alleged card game at a negro house on Washington street resulted in three arrests. More were there, but no evidence could be secured against them. Will Holland, Lipford Oliver and James Scott, were arrested. Holland and Oliver were fined $10 and costs at the hearing this morning but Scott won an acquittal for lack of evidence.

The case of Will Keen, charged with felonious assault on Lee Waddill, colored, was continued pending the outcome of the wounded negro's condition. Waddill is now in the hospital and Keen is under bond, charged with the cutting. He is alleged to have stabbed Waddill in the chest last night at a house on Washington street. Little details of what took place could be learned this morning but officers say that the cutting was the result of some words over a woman. If feeling is said to have existed between the two men for some time. Keen is alleged to have attacked Waddill without warning.

Ira Davis drew a fine of $2.50 and costs for interfering with an officer in discharge of his duties. Officer J. T. Bennett bringing the charge. Officer Bennett stated that he was keeping his eye on a couple in Ballou park last night and that Davis was acting as watchman. Davis claimed he knew nothing about the couple and declared that he was merely taking a walk through the park, after a monotonous day sitting around home.

James Scott was fined $21 and costs for speeding.

W. Lynch was assessed $10 and costs for violating the traffic ordinance.

Peyton Lumford is being held in connection with an alleged robbery which took place last night on the Yanceyville road near Dowdy's store. Police Officers O. W. Bates, O. S. Mayberry and F. G. Towell responded

WATSON STREET BADLY DAMAGED BY WATER

The torrential downpour of rain which struck Danville between midnight and one o'clock Saturday night, caused a serious cave-in on Watson street, practically wiped out the repair work at the junction of Marshall street and Watson as well as other minor damage from flood in different parts of the city. The city's sewer system was incapable in many instances of carrying off the surplus water and basements were flooded. Collection of water at a culvert in the rear of the Auto Specialty Company's plant on Union street resulted in the water invading the premises rising three inches on the first floor and depositing a coating of mud over the premises.

The washout on Watson street was the most serious damage done. One half of the street on the fill where both slopes meet literally subsided and was washed away into the ravine which the fill spans making a hole large enough to place a street car. It exposed gas and water pipes recently laid and it is feared that the sewer main has been broken. In order to prevent the gas main from breaking entirely a force of city workmen went to work early Sunday morning repairing up the exposed pipe and making the gas main which was dangerously bent, safe. City officials and members of the Council were among the many people who went to cave-in Sunday and it was decided to hold a meeting of the public works committee at two o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of seeing what could be done towards paving the street.

The damage done both at Marshall street and in the hollow had been predicted by the city engineer, R. K. Linville who has recommended several times that the street be paved. It has been impressed on the council several times that heavy rains would cause damage because of the increased flowing down both sides of Watson street but lack of funds at this time has prevented permanent remedial measure. Examination of the cave-in yesterday revealed that it would cost at least $1,000 to put the street back in the same shape as it was. It is feared that a cavity has been gouged out under the entire length of the fill where a branch flows through a pipe and that for automobiles the street is dangerous.

to a call that "a man had been attacked and robbed of $3." The officers on reaching the scene found a crowd of drunken men, among them Lumford. A man named Foster brings the charge that he was beaten by members of the crowd and robbed. His face shows evidence of having been attacked. Lumford denied that he knew anything about such an attack and robbery.

OFFICER RETURNS WITH ALLEGED WIFE DESERTER

Police Officer E. G. Bragg Saturday returned from Steubenville, Ohio, with Allen Meadows, wanted here on a charge of wife desertion. Meadows was arrested on August 31st, in the Ohio town and the local authorities were notified. Officer Bragg left for the prisoner Thursday and returned Saturday night.

CONFESSES TO THEFT OF LETTER

(By The Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Sept. 21.—The San Francisco Call, publisher of the editorial article stating that the confidential letter written by United States Senator Hiram Johnson to C. M. McCarthy, editor of the Sacramento (California) Bee, in which the senator discussed his private life, was stolen from the private files of Albert E. Boynton, chairman of the Republican National committee, by George C. Hardwick, a former employee, who turned copies over to Governor F. W. Richardson and Andrew P. Lawrence, publisher of the San Francisco Journal.

The Call-Post says it has a signed confession from Hardwick, a resident of Berkeley, California, who admits taking the correspondence for personal revenge against Boynton and not to injure Senator Johnson, whom he did not know. Hardwick was dismissed from Boynton's employ last July. He asserted in his statement to the Call-Post that he had been promised employment both by Governor Richardson, from whom he said he received a letter of thanks for sending the Boynton correspondence and George D. Squires, state insurance commissioner. The promised employment, however, did not materialize, Hardwick said, and he is at present in distressed circumstances with a wife and three children to support.

Publication of Senator Johnson's letter to Mr. McCarthy was made in the San Francisco Journal August 12. Eleven days later Senator Johnson, while in Washington, D. C., gave to the press a copy of the letter together with a statement in which he said:

"I hoped the incident would be taken by the opposition as an invitation to contest in California." Publication of the letter created a sensation in national as well as political circles. The senator wrote Mr. McCarthy that while he would like to be president he saw no prospect that President Harding would be re-elected. He said also that he was convinced that the Johnson element could not rally its old time strength in California, and doubt, if he could against Harding. However, or any other candidate.

JAPANESE GRATEFUL FOR QUICK RELIEF

(By CHARLES DAILEY
(By Chicago Tribune Service))
YOKOHAMA, Sept. 22.—The news that the American relief fund has passed $8,000,000 while deeply appreciated by Japan, has caused a suggestion from other quarters that the American Red Cross conserve further funds until the actual needs are determined. There are ample credits and sufficient supplies unless America wishes to assist in reconstruction.

After a tour of Tokyo, Kobe and Osaka, The Tribune correspondent finds that the medical and food supply is beyond the current needs with further shipments from America and Manila unnecessary, except on specific requests.

J. R. Geary, head of the American Red Cross in Japan, remains at Kobe, carrying out urgent relief among the assisting American families to evacuate, but he will start for Tokyo Friday. Calls are becoming fewer indicating that this need has been met. More hospital equipment has been landed at Kobe, Yokohama and Tokyo than Japan will require and surgeons are virtually idle, advocating the recall of the Empress Russia, which brought 24 tons of milk, which was not required.

Huge navy supplies were landed, which were not needed, as the Japanese with the reservation of limited transportation, are getting supplies from other parts of Japan and also many ships are bringing rice.

The Japanese are deeply grateful to America, but the chief need is some form of credit for reconstruction. The suggestion is frankly made American quarters that further contributions to the American Red Cross be made on condition that they be passed to a general emergency fund unless specifically requested by Mr. Geary.

STRESEMANN WILL MAKE UP MIND AS TO HIS COURSE

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, Sept. 22.—Chancellor Stresemann is to decide in the course of the next four days whether to strike his colors in the Ruhr or urge the populace to continue their passive resistance to the French-Belgian forces of occupation.

The momentous decision will not be reached until the cabinet has conferred with the premiers of the federated states and those Reichstag leaders qualified to speak for the parties making up the present coalition.

Pending such final deliberations the chancellor also will canvass the situation with the Reichstag deputies from the occupied area and with officials industrialists and labor leaders authorized to speak for the population of the Ruhr and Rhineland.

Upon the outcome of these conferences, which will begin next Monday, depends the nature of the government's declaration, which Dr. Stresemann will communicate to the Reichstag next Wednesday.

Meanwhile official quarters make categorical denial of rumors concerning fresh reparations offers or of the despatch of the German note to France and Belgium containing proposals for calling off passive resistance.

At the foreign office it was declared that a new reparations offer was impossible in the present situation, if only for the reason that Germany's proposal of June 7 is still awaiting consideration by the creditor powers.

MANILA PARADE PLANNED

(By CHAS. WILGUS
(By Chicago Tribune Service))
MANILA, Sept. 22.—A parade of the democratic opposition party to call on Governor General Leonard Wood to force publication of the beneficiaries of the $500,000 independence fund and also force a complete exposure of the $45,000,000 losses alleged to have been incurred by the Philippine national bank is scheduled here for September 23. The police so far have not intervened, although disorders are regarded as a possibility.

A special election of senators is due here in a few days which is no important in itself, as there is no change in the anti-Wood majority in the legislature, but which Mr. Queson and Senator Osmena are anxious to win, as such a result may be used apparently as a repudiation of Governor General Wood's policies by the mass of voters. Present indications are that Ramon Fernandez, former mayor of Manila, who is the Queson-Osmena candidate, will win on an anti-American platform.

Smith "Boom" Has Now Disappeared

Was Proclaimed Fearless Leader to Light Way Back to Sanity.

ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
(By Chicago Tribune Service)

NEW YORK, 24.—Governor Al Smith's boom for the Presidency as a fearless young leader arisen to light the way back to sanity on the question of drink, temperance and prohibition appears to have fizzled out.

When the New York governor signed the repealer of the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act, there were numerous Democratic leaders here and elsewhere who had visions of the country revolting against prohibition and putting Al Smith in the White House with a whoop as a token of widespread repudiation of the Volstead Law. The revolution was to start with other states following the example of New York in repealing state enforcement legislation. The wets are now wondering when the "revolving" is to begin. There is no sign of it yet. Attempts were made in the Illinois, Wisconsin and other legislatures to repeal state enforcement acts but met with complete failure. The southern Democrats refused to be lured to the Smith standard by his application of their traditional states right doctrine to the liquor question.

As a net political result of his action the governor has a first lien on the New York delegation to the Democratic national convention which a veto of the repealer might have cost him, and the friendly sympathy of democratic organization in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Illinois. That will not win Smith the Democratic nomination for president and this fact is now generally recognized hereabouts. He might be nominated for vice president. Democrats opine, with a view to carrying New York and other neighboring wet states, where he is popular. When George Brennan, the Illinois Democratic leader was here last week conferring with the governor and Boss Murphy of Tammany Hall rumors were afloat of schemes to put over a ticket composed of Senator Oscar W. Underwood, Alabama, for President and Al Smith for vice president. Inasmuch as Senator Underwood is classed as a wet that combination would be more humid than necessary or advisable and consequently it is deemed more likely that if Smith should be given second place on the ticket it would be as running mate to a western dry. Some Democrats think that a ticket composed of McAdoo and Smith, or Ralston of Indiana and Smith, would be ideal, catching the voters going and coming, inasmuch as McAdoo and Ralston are classed as dries. It may be stated parenthetically, however, that neither Mr. Brennan nor Mr. Murphy has suggested this combination. They are enamored of neither McAdoo nor Ralston. Mr. Brennan looks forward to casting the vote of Illinois for either Representative Rainey or John Barton Payne, while Mr. Murphy expects to cast the vote of New York for Governor Smith until other arrangements are arrived at.

William Randolph Hearst has ceased to enjoy the Democratic organization for the moment at least with his presidential aspirations. He has resumed the role of Tammany Tiger baiter, temporarily forsaken during his ill-fated courting of the support of all Democratic factions for the gubernatorial nomination last year, and with no chance of getting the convention delegation away from Smith, will seek political preferment, if at all, by the third party route.

If Smith should not land on the national ticket he will be subjected to great pressure to become a candidate for a third term at Albany. With his popularity in his own state apparently undiminished, he undoubtedly would add strength to the national ticket in New York as a candidate for governor. It looks now as if the Republican candidate for governor will be either Theodore Roosevelt who is classed as a wet or William Hayward, United States attorney, who has espoused the dry side of the argument. The failure of the Smith attack on the Volstead act to gain popularity is attributed by the dries to satisfaction with prohibition and by the wets to the ease with which drinkers can get liquor. Whiskey is said to be more plentiful than ever in New York now and the price lower and those who have the price are represented as not inclined to worry about modification of the law.

DRAFT SKIPPER HID AT HOME

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
MARSHFIELD, Wis., Sept. 22.—The death of Mrs. Frank Swelghofer, a widow, on her farm near here several days ago has revealed to an astounded community the whereabouts of her son Frank, draft dodger extraordinary, who has been in hiding for five years.

When the war broke out, Frank, then 23 years old, had two reasons for fearing to go to the service. He had been born in Germany and could not relish the idea of fighting against the country of his birth. Then, again, he did not like to leave his old mother, whose constant aid and companionship he had been ever since his father died.

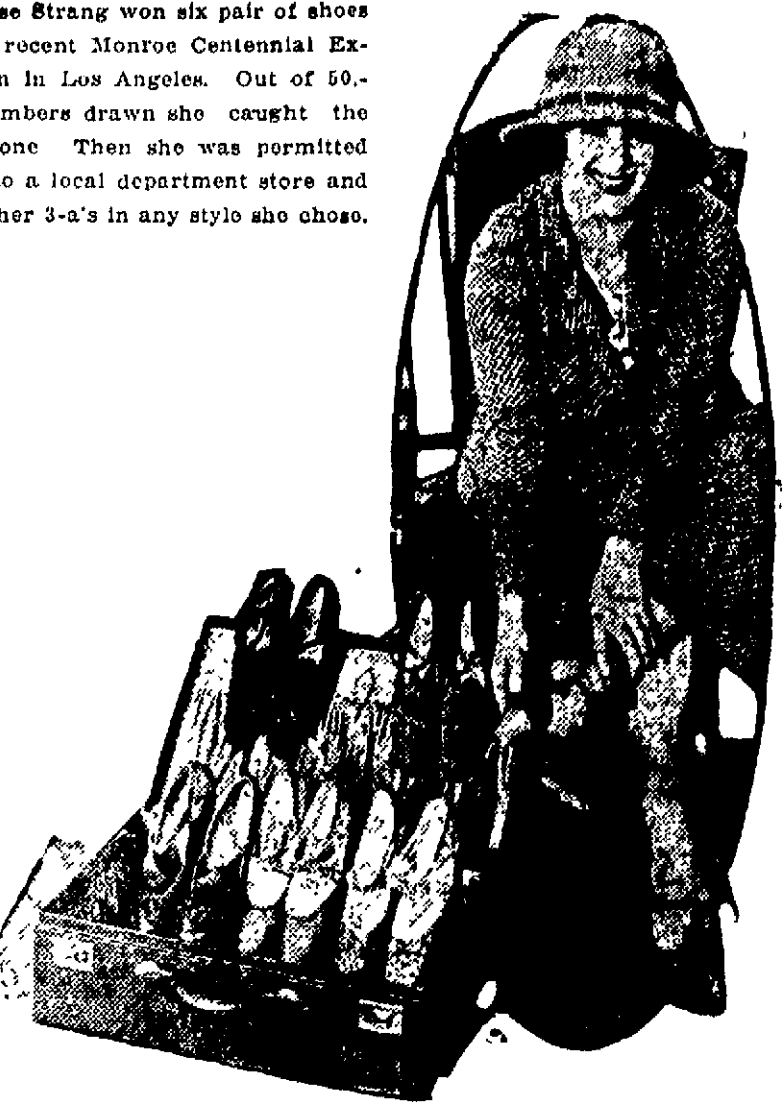

When the draft came and Frank was called he disappeared. He was forgotten until he finally appeared to neighbors at his mother's death bed, and then they learned that for five years he had been constantly in their midst, terror stricken fugitive who lay in hiding during the day and, under cover of darkness came out to work the little farm. Throughout the war he hid all day. When neighbors passed the little farm at night they often saw the bent and stooped figure of what apparently was an old woman moving about the little patch. They pitied Mrs. Swelghofer, but they did not know, until Frank revealed to them, that the supposed woman was himself clad in an old dress of his mother's. He did not venture from the farm, even after the war was over. But when his mother died, loyalty would not permit him to desert her to the charity of neighbors so he remained.

MY DEAR WINS RACE

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 22.—"My Dear", carrying 116 pounds and ridden by Jocky Walls today won the Autumn cup, $10,000 added value, from a field of five rivals at Woodbine track. RUSSIA DIFFICULT TO ENTER

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—Although the Soviet government has announced that admission to Russia would be facilitated for the purpose of accommodating visitors to the commercial exposition in Moscow, Americans desiring to enter the Soviet republic still find it difficult to obtain permission from Moscow. The Berlin embassy says it is unable to grant permission without communication with the central government in Moscow and delays are as prolonged as they were before the announcement of a change in policy.

CHAPMAN INSTALLED.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 22.—D. O. Chapman, of Roanoke, installed tonight by the state council of administration of the Veterans of Foreign Wars as Virginia department commander to succeed Charles McDermott, Jr., of Norfolk, outlined to the council plans for more aggressive and work in organizing throughout the state. He expressed the determination to double the strength of the Virginia posts by the time of the state encampments at Harrisonburg next spring.

MAKE EFFORTS TO CAPTURE KING

(By The Associated Press)
LANSING, Mich., Sept. 22.—Renewed efforts to apprehend Benjamin Purnell, missing head of the House of David colony at Benton Harbor, were made by the state today. State police have been assigned to the attorney general's department to assist him in the hunt for the suit leader against whom a warrant charging a statutory offense has been issued. Meanwhile the attorney general's department is continuing its review of testimony taken at the grand jury proceedings against the colony.

OIL BOOM IS OVER

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 21.—The unprecedented oil boom that swept California during the past year is over and from now on there will be a steady decline in production, S. A. Guiberson, Jr., of the Southern California Oil Producers, said today before the annual convention of the National Petroleum Association.

Sore, Bleeding Gums Point To Pyorrhea Ahead

Dentists say that a great majority of people either have pyorrhea (high disease) or pyorrheal tendencies. The beginning is sore, receding or bleeding gums, sensitive or loose teeth, pus pockets and bad odors. Pyorrhea not only affects the gums and teeth, but also your general health, as the pus, which is very poisonous, is absorbed into the system, causing serious stomach troubles, the results of which are sometimes fatal.

You can now treat pyorrhea at home and get relief with formula known as Creosene, the new discovery that, through penetration, carries a powerful but harmless germicidal, of which creosote (the greatest germ-destroying tissue-preserving agency known and used by dentists for years) is the base, right to the roots of the teeth, killing the pyorrhea germs, making the gums healthy, tightening up and preserving the teeth, healing pus pockets, relieving pain and destroying odors caused by decayed or abscessed teeth. Creosene is pleasant to use, and should be used by every one who has a plate, as it keeps the gums firm and healthy and free from pain. $1.00 at your druggist and your money back if it fails. Creosene Co., Atlanta, Ga.—adv.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACE FEATURE

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 22.—The Chamber of Commerce $3,000 stake for 2:08 trotters proved to be the feature of the five events on today's grand circuit program. It developed into a four heat battle, Walter Sterling finally winning.

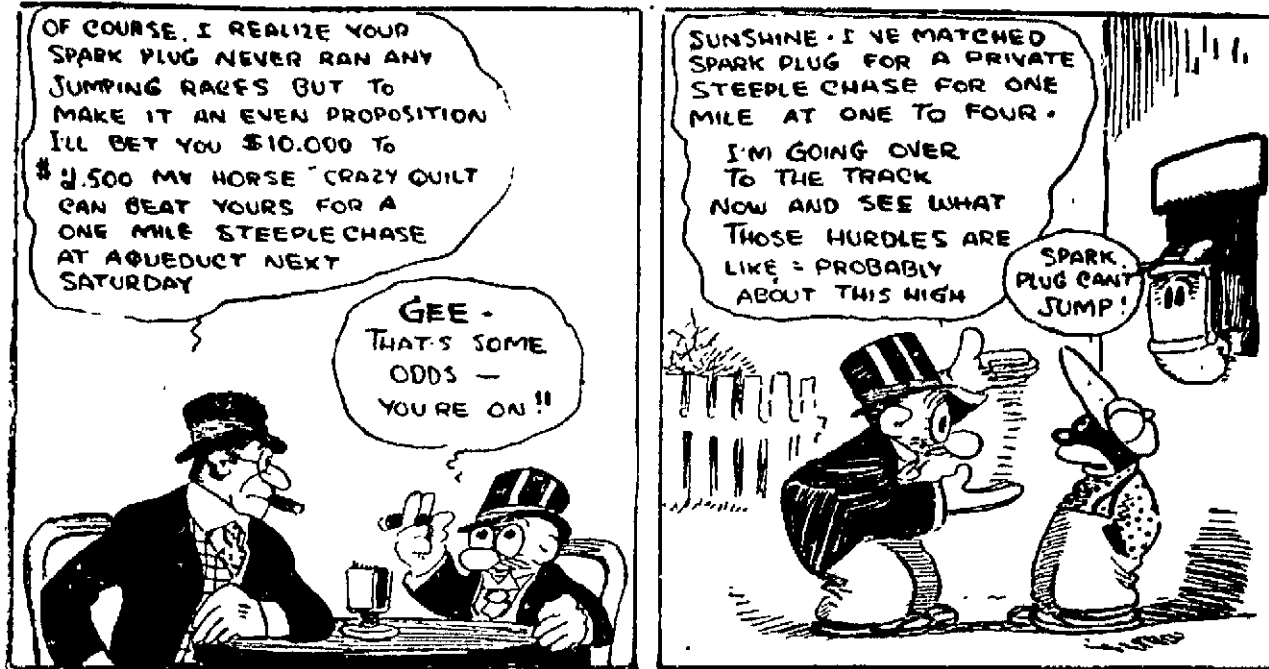

The favored Merriman won the other stake event of the day, the Southern Hotel event for $3,000, open to 2:11 pacers, in straight heats.

Pale Face captured the 2:14 pace, winning the first two heats, but was out paced in the stretch in the final by Eli Direct, the winner.

The 2:17 trot with a big field furnished a surprise. After Mr. Harvester, a rank outsider, won the first heat, June Marie, a third choice, won

JOE LYNCH TO DEFEND TITLE

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Joe Lynch, of New York, will defend his bantam weight title against Joe Barman, of Chicago, in a 15 round match at Madison Square Garden on the night of October 12, unless there is a hitch in the State Athletic Commission's present plans to lift the champion's suspension next Tuesday.

Lynch paved the way for his reinstatement and complied with the commission's requirements today by posting a $2,500 forfeit for the match with Barman. He was suspended some time ago and his title declared forfeit to Burman for failure to accept the latter's challenge within the required six months' period. Later, however, it was revealed that the two fighters had come to an agreement a few days before the expiration of his period, though failing to so notify the Commission. Thus, in order to comply with the State Boxing regulations, Lynch assumed the position of challenger and posted the forfeit to clinch the match.

Coach Hartsell of N. C. State Has Problem To Solve

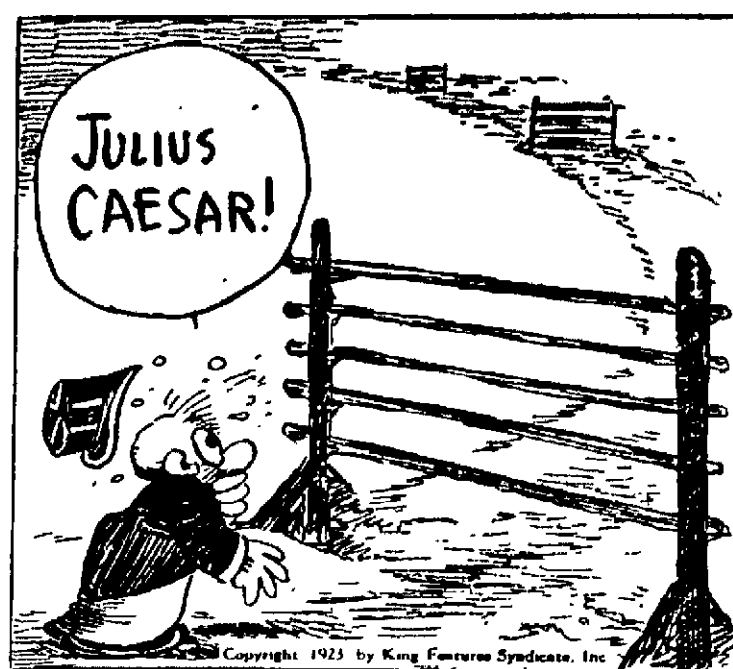

RALEIGH, Sept. 22.—Faced by the problem of replacing almost the entire backfield and at least two positions in the rush line, the coaching staff at North Carolina State, headed again by Harry Hartsell, reports satisfactory progress in developing the green material. The Tech squad is small this year, about forty men, reporting daily, and at this stage of the season some muscles engendered by the brisk workouts are responding but slowly to trainer Crozier's ministrations.

As a consequence about every third man on the squad is on the slightly injured list. "Mugs" Seawell and McAdoo, star linemen sent up by the 1922 freshman team, being the more seriously injured. The former is out with a wrenched knee, while McAdoo is nursing a badly strained ankle. Dr. Crozier hopes to have both men in uniform again within the week.

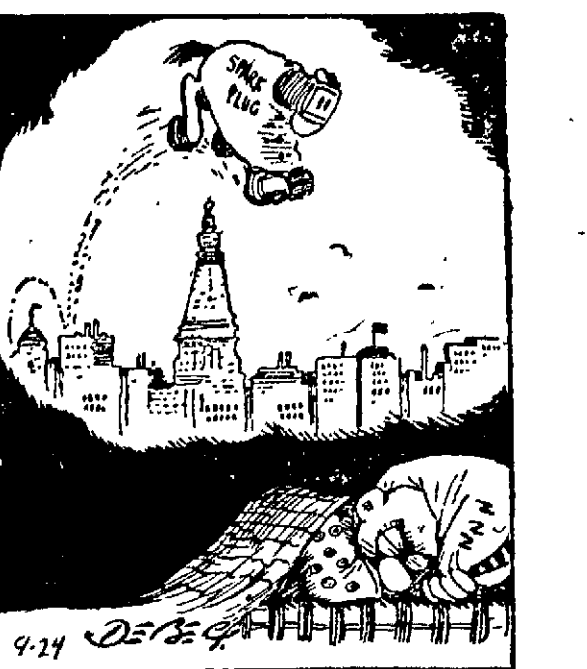

With the season's opened with Roanoke College scheduled for next Saturday, the Tech coaches are bending every effort to whip the mass of green material into some semblance of a football machine. The problem is difficult as a vast amount of time is required for drilling details into inexperienced men. Team work and general smoothness of play may be lacking early in the season, but the Techmen, it is said, will be well-grounded in the fundamentals, and supporters believe that cohesion in both offense and defense will begin to show before October is very far advanced.

Herbert N. Hartman, a former star lineman at Lafayette College, and for the past two years assistant to John W. Heisman at the University of Pennsylvania, reported to head Coach Harry Hartsell last Friday. Hartman will act as Assistant Varsity Coach, relieving Sammy Homewood, who will devote his entire attention to the yearling squad. He will work almost exclusively with the Tech forwards, while Hartsell handles the backfield.

A word at this point will not be amiss concerning the personnel of the squad. Captain "Big Dick" Bostian is back at his job at center, a position he has very ably filled during the last two seasons. "Little" Logan and Black from the Freshman team are working out as his understudies.

Kinks-o' the Kinks

Has a player the right at any time during the playing of a hole to ascertain the number of strokes his opponent has played? Is there any penalty if an opponent gives the wrong information as to the number of strokes he has played?

A player is entitled at any time during the playing of a hole to ask his opponent how many strokes he has played. Very often such knowledge has a considerable influence on the play. If a player gives wrong information as to the number of strokes he has played, he shall lose the hole unless he corrects the mistake before his opponent has played another stroke.

Is there any difference with the order of play on the putting green than on the fairway? If a player puts out of order on the green how can the mistake be rectified?

When both balls are on the putting green, the same custom that prevails in the rest of the game is followed, the one farther from the hole is played first. If a player nearer the hole should err and play first, his opponent has the right to recall the stroke, make him replace the ball and wait until his proper turn.

Greensboro Doctor Kills Himself In Baltimore Hospital

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 23.—While his nurse had left the room for a few minutes early this morning, Dr. John Alexander Williams, Greensboro, N. C., a patient at the private sanitarium at 1029 North Calvert street, slashed an artery in his leg and bled to death before the nurse returned.

When the nurse, Miss Mary Steigleman, returned, she found Dr. Williams lying in a pool of blood and still bleeding freely from a deep gash in his right leg. She summoned Dr. Ernest S. Cross, who pronounced the man dead.

Coroner Riley, of the Central district was notified, and after an investigation, gave a verdict of suicide. A note in the handwriting of Dr. Williams was found addressed to Miss Steigleman, in which he had written a note to her to be read after his death, but on each of the four previous occasions, he had lost his nerve at the last minute and had torn them up. Another sealed letter was found addressed to Mrs. Morton, Magnolia street, Greensboro, which was mailed to the address without being opened.

After opening the artery, Dr. Williams had closed the razor with which the gash had been made, and had carefully placed it beside him on the bed. He had then folded his hands and calmly awaited for death. He had been a patient at the sanitarium since July 30, suffering from nervous troubles.

Several other notes were found to different business houses in the city, cancelling orders for merchandise which had been ordered by the doctor.

Dr. Williams was born in Person county, N. C., May 23, 1872, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams. The family moved to Caswell county two years later and there the boy lived his early life. He went to Wake Forest college and later to the medical school of the University of Virginia, where he got his medical degree. From Virginia he went to the New York Polytechnic hospital for post-graduate work.

For a brief period he practiced in Caswell county and at Roanoke, but his real career as a physician and surgeon began at Reidsville, where he was associated with Dr. J. C. Walton. Later Dr. Williams and Dr. J. W. McGehee formed a partnership. During this period Dr. Williams had already begun to show his unusual ability and his work in and around Reidsville brought him a high name for both general practice and surgery. He made hundreds of friends in that section of the state who recall the man and his work with affection, admiration and pride.

GUARD PAPYRUS VERY CLOSELY

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 22.—A vast crowd saw Papyrus, the English derby winner, aboard the Aquitania yesterday. Papyrus jibbed at entering the gangway but after that he went along calmly, following his stable companion, Ear Gold, up the gangplank.

A guard was set over Papyrus and bolts placed on doors so as to prevent the possibility of tampering. Ben Irish, owner of Papyrus, carefully watched the sacks of fodder aboard each of which was marked in letters with the horse's name and placed under lock and key. Papyrus' entourage consists of Trainer Parvis, a veterinary, a blacksmith and five stable men.

Hockey Donaghue, after a long conference with Mr. Irish left in an automobile to consult Mr. Singer at Salisbury, who has an option on Bullock. Mr. J. A. Joels, jockey for the great Carench race. If able to arrange it so Bullock can cancel his arrangements so he will be able to ride in the Carench race for Mr. Joel in place of Donaghue the latter will leave for America to ride Papyrus.

CHICAGO WINS TWO

(By The Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—Cleveland and both ends of a double header from the Athletics here today: 3 to 1 and 5 to 2. In the first game Cvenegros held them to five hits, while in the second Ted Blankenship allowed but two scratch singles.

CHARLOTTE WINS AND KEEPS LEAD

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 22.—Charlotte gained the edge on Wilson today by winning 9 to 3 and the count now stands three games won by Charlotte to one for Wilson, in the seven game series between the local club, winner of the South Atlantic league pennant, and Wilson, champion of the Virginia league.

Charlotte bunched hits off Hearn and easily captured the game, while Wilson was tight in the pinches although he was hit as freely as Hearn. The locals scored up the game in the seventh inning when Hearn walked his only man, hit another and allowed four hits, two of which were for extra bases with men on. Home run by Sikes of Wilson and Knaupp of Charlotte secured the win.

Umpire Brandon put Catcher Hearn out of the game for alleged abuse following a decision at third base where a runner was said to have failed to tag upon a sacrifice fly and was put out.

The clubs play here again Monday, and if a seventh game is needed to determine the winner it will be played in Charlotte, a coin having been tossed to the rival clubs this afternoon.

Score by innings:

"STANDARD"

The Balanced Gasoline

You can't dodge it

—the principle of balance. It is universal. From the beginning of time, practically everything that man has invented has afterwards been improved by getting a finer balance of parts or constituents.

That is the way we have improved gasoline and the performance that it will give. A certain proportion of low-boiling constituents for better, quick, sure starting. A certain proportion of high-boiling constituents for better power and mileage. A certain proportion of intermediate constituents for better acceleration and snappier pick-up.

That is what "Standard" has. The proportion, or balance, is everything. "Standard" has it. It is the better gasoline—all ways.

DANVILLE HIGH SEASON ON GRIDIRON WILL OPEN SATURDAY WITH O. R. I

The Danville Highs will open their football season next Saturday with Oak Ridge Institute at Oak Ridge. Overlooking the open date of October 13 the first game now scheduled here will be on October 20 with the Roanoke Highs.

The players who will wear the High jersey of gray and maroon in the opening game with Oak Ridge are yet to be selected, and the regular squad will probably not be picked for several games in order to give all the new men the privilege of showing their wares under fire. Coach G. F. Heubel now has 35 candidates taking the preliminary practice, consisting of fundamentals, signal and blackboard drills and setting up exercises. The first regular scrimmage will in all probability be held some time about the middle of this week.

Among the 35 would-be only a few old experienced faces can be seen. Only two or three of the regulars are back in school and the mentors face the task of building practically a new eleven. The candidates as a whole are of light build but speed is expected to make up for the lack of heavy material. First ends with a fast-moving backfield are expected to aid in the line on the defensive while the majority of offensive play will be based on expedite moves.

Although not over-confident about the team, the coaches have a very modest working "Flying Squadron" developed by the time the season gets going underway.

Along with several others the "Turkey Day" date remains open, but it is an established fact the big game of the season will be played in Danville. The complete schedule as it now stands is:

September 29.—Oak Ridge at Oak Ridge.
October 6.—Episcopal H. S. at Lynchburg.
October 13.—Open.
October 20.—Roanoke H. S. here.
October 27.—Martinsville H. S. here.
November 3.—Alta Vista, here.
November 10.—Open.
November 17.—Lynchburg H. S. at Lynchburg.
November 24.—Randolph-Macon at Randolph-Macon.
November 29.—Open.

Isn't Wanted Anywhere

(Special to The Bee.) SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—It's hard lines to be ordered deported from a country and not to have any other country to be deported to.

In that such an embarrassing situation that Count Albert Sitchofsky found himself placed recently, following the expiration of a term in McNeil Island federal prison for illegally entering the United States. The count is a Pole of ancient lineage, a traveler in many lands. Fate took him to Tijuana, Mexico, in 1921. A pretty California girl invited him across the border for a visit. The count came—without a passport. Then arose a difficulty over the count's entry into the country. The McNeil Island chapter in his career and deportation order next. But the Polish government refused to let the count return home. Awaiting the outcome of the conversation between Washington and Warsaw, which was spending money like a drunken sailor," he said, "everybody was my friend. But now—"

Pressmen Refuse To End Strike

(By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Members of the local union of pressmen, whose unauthorized strike has hampered New York newspapers for a week, have refused to return to work.

George L. Berry, an statement after a meeting of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union yesterday which was stamped by members of the striking local, declared New York's daily press would be run, if a whole force of men had to be brought from outside the city for each press.

"We will stop other newspapers, if necessary, to print in New York City," he said.

"He said that his name had been forged to a number of telegrams which had been sent to international pressmen officers in various cities, stating that no persons were wanted to fill the place of local union men."

Presses affected by the strike continued today to publish curtailed combined editions of eight papers.

Pape handlers who have been on strike in sympathy with the pressmen voted yesterday to end their strike.

"THE FOOL" TONIGHT. Greatest Drama of the year at The Majestic, Direct From Broadway

Channing Pollock's great drama of Christianity at odds with human nature in a troubling century. "The Fool," presented by the Selwyns, comes to the Majestic Theatre tomorrow (Monday) night, but not as a stranger. Clergy and laymen, the righteous and unregenerate have borne testimony of the piece and of its performance. In the first act the author depicts the upper world of hypocrites and intolérance.

"The Fool" himself is a young rector in a wealthy parish but his preaching against the preferred classes and a pleading for justice for those less fortunate costs him his position. A second act brings him to the middle world of those who earn their bread by the labor of their hands. Suspected and abused by the very men he would help, the Fool cannot act as a strike mediator for the odds are too much against him. Another act and another descent in the social scale lead him to the world of outcasts, the slums. Here his efforts at settlement work lead to violent rejection from some but successful nevertheless. At last he finds consolation in his work and living in a single room, feeling that he is really a rich man since he has "peace, friends, time to read and think and dream and help."

Briefly, this is the story of the most marvelous play of the age, which will have an excellent company of fifty for the presentation here. The production will be a duplicate of the one used during a year's run in New York.

Prices 50 cents to $2.50. Seats now at box office.

"BLOSSOM TIME." To be presented at The Majestic Theatre Monday, October 8th.

The Mess. Schubert's "Blossom Time," the three act musical play whose score was admirably adapted by Edmund Romberg from the original by Franz Schubert comes to the Majestic Theatre on Monday, October 8th.

The piece has had a tremendous vogue in Paris and Vienna and duplicated these successes in New York, where it played two years. This enchanting operetta will be presented here by a splendid cast for Schubert's music demands real voices to sing it.

All the wealth of melody of which Schubert was master is poured in unstinted measure into this superlatively beautiful score. The dignity, tenderness and musical eloquence of the great composer, are manifested in a pretty story in which he expresses his love of melody and his love of the language of music. There are haunting melodies of the "Unfinished Symphony" recurring throughout the score; the "Ave Maria," "The Serenade," "The Scherzo," "Song of Love," all are embodied like radiant gems in this jewel of a musical play, under the personal direction of J. J. Schubert.

An excellent cast will interpret this charming musical play.

Slain Girl Had Melancholy Fear Personal Danger

(By Chicago Tribune Service.) MILLVILLE, N. J., Sept. 24.—For six weeks before Emma Dickson, 35 year old high school girl of Brickwood, N. J., whose mutilated, blood-soaked body was found beneath a screen of shrubbery on a lonely road south of Millville, yesterday morning, disappeared from her home, ten days before she was possessed by a melancholy fear of personal danger as mysterious in her as the circumstances surrounding her murder.

The neighbors of the girl's father and uncle with whom she lived have advanced a maze of theories regarding her brutal slaying. County detectives today intimated the identity of the murderer is known to them, and that an arrest will be made within twenty-four hours.

Suspicion, it is said, has centered upon a married man of Port Elizabeth, who owns a Durant car, and who, the authorities have learned, made more than one advance to Emma. According to Port Elizabeth residents he bears a reputation for philandering. When seen last Sunday since when he has disappeared, the man's face bore scratches, it is reported.

Emma's fear of an attack by some person whose identity she carefully shielded from her relatives and most intimate friends is known to the county detective conducting an investigation into her death and forms the basis of the theory they believe will lead them to the slayer.

The girl was killed by a blow on the head dealt with a six-foot plank according to the findings of the county coroner. Her right arm was broken and her hip bruised.

The hub cap of a Durant car, found with Emma's torn petticoat and one shoe at the side of the road a short distance from where her body lay undiscovered for more than a week, is believed by the authorities to be an important clue to the identity of her slayer.

County Physician Wainwright, after an examination, pronounced her death a "plain case of horrible murder." Her skull was brutally caved in as though it had been dealt a heavy blow with a blunt instrument. This body, bared by rents in the girl's dress, was cut and bruised in such a manner as to testify to the desperate struggle which had preceded the death blow.

The county authorities are conducting an investigation.

Emma's body bears evidence of a ruthless assault, and the girl's

Coal Commission Makes Final Report

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Declaring that to deal effectively with problems of the national coal industry the government must go beyond continuing fact-finding and "politics," the coal commission, in its final report to President Coolidge, recommends government supervision of the industry through exercise of its interstate commerce powers. Direct responsibility for such supervision, the commission believes, should be lodged in a specially created division of the interstate commerce commission operating through a system of licensing to include dealers as well as the producers.

At the same time the commission declared "the largest opportunity for putting the coal industry in order lies with the industry itself."

The fundamental evil in the anthracite industry, the report says, lies in its monopolistic future. To protect the public in this regard, the commission suggested the levy of a graded tax on royalties and differential profits. While this would not lower the price of coal, the commission said, it would secure a public revenue without increasing the price. WARD WILL NOT TAKE THE STAND IN MURDER TRIAL

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 22—Walter S. Ward, probably will not be called by the defense to tell his own story of the killing of Clarence Peters, when his trial for murder is resumed Monday, Isaac N. Mills, chief counsel for the defense, said today. He added, however, that "even if that is necessary, the secret of the blackmail which culminated in the shooting will not be revealed."

From other sources, considered reliable, it was learned that George S. Ward, wealthy baker and the prisoner's father, may end his self-imposed exile from the state and return to testify. An affidavit, submitted at the trial yesterday, declared the son a go-between in a blackmail plot against his father.

The defendant, meanwhile, was being watched in Westchester county jail more closely than usual. Warden Hill assigned a special guard to Ward's cell but he declined to give any reason for his action.

COOKED SPAGHETTI WRONG: BUTCHER'S SPOUSE RIGHT

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
CHICAGO, Sept. 22—Because his bride of a few weeks had cooked the family spaghetti "a la Neapolitan" instead of "a la Milanese," as he preferred it, Serino Lee seized a large butcher knife and stabbed her twice in the shoulder and chest.

At the hospital the sobbing bride, who is but 20, said she knew but one way to prepare spaghetti and tried to explain to her furious spouse. The arrival of neighbors, who overheard the row in the Lee apartment, probably saved her life.

She will be sent home in a few days, but Serino will eat his spaghetti in the county jail and his wishes will not be regarded as to its preparation. It will be "a la Cook County" and he can eat it or leave it alone.

Viscount Morley Died Last Night

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Sept. 24—Viscount Morley, of Blackburn, eminent writer and liberal statesman, died last evening at his residence in Wimbledon of heart disease.

Successfully mingling letters and statescraft, Viscount Morley attained remarkable eminence in both spheres. In letters he was best known for his biographical studies such as his lives of Burke, Voltaire, Cobden, Diderot, Cromwell and Gladstone, while in statesmanship his most notable achievements were as chief secretary for Ireland in the Gladstone "Home Rule" cabinet, and later as Secretary of State for India.

His practical retirement from public life came only when he was seventy-seven years old—shortly after the outbreak of the European war. He was then lord president of the Council, in the Asquith cabinet, and was one of the older men to give way to the younger men during the European war.

A life-long in British politics he was a most pronounced Liberal and one of the most interesting incidents of his career is the fact that after years of denunciation of the House of Lords as an institution that should be either "amended or ended," he himself was elevated to the peerage in 1905 and took a seat in that august body. He continued, however, to be one of the most active leaders in the reform movement which curbed the power of the lords through the years.

Viscount Morley was born as John Morley, the son of a surgeon at Blackburn, Lancashire, Eng., Dec. 24, 1828. He was educated at Birmingham College and afterwards

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The cotton market had a somewhat irregular opening today, first prices being seven points higher to three points lower, but there was buying on reports of unsettled weather in the south and the steady showing of the later Liverpool cable. They sent the active months about 10 to 15 points net higher during the early trading. October selling up to 29.40 and January to 28.40. Private cables from Liverpool reported a quiet market there with recent sellers buying because of unfavorable crop reports from the southwest. Brokers with New Orleans, Liverpool and domestic trade connections were among the early buyers but offerings increased shortly after the call and there were reactions of 20 or 30 points under selling which appeared to come partly from the south.

Cotton futures opened steady:

$1800,000 WHISKEY STOLEN

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—Following the theft of 893 barrels of whiskey, valued at $1,800,000, from the bonded warehouse of the Jack Daniel Distillery here, which was discovered yesterday, it was learned that 869 cases of whiskey, every drop in the warehouse of the Parker Distilling Company, also had been taken away. The value of the liquor from the Parker Company was valued at $20,000 on the basis of prevailing drug store prices.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Prices displayed a firm tone at the opening of today's stock market. The usual industrial leaders showed little or no change but a resumption of short covering operations was noted in the oils, equipments and foods. Gains of approximately a point each were registered by American Sugar Refining, Dupont and Bethlehem Steel.

Prices strengthened later, Dupont and Gulf States Steel each extending their gains to two points the demand was most effective in the oils, sugars, chemicals and independent steels.

Gains of a point or more were registered by Corn Products common and preferred, Cuban Cane, preferred, Mack Truck and several others. Pierce Oil preferred, off one, was the only heavy spot. Sharp rallies in French and Belgian francs featured the strong foreign exchange market, the former jumping 15 1/2 points to 6.17 cents and Belgian 3 1/2 to 5.45 cents.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24.—After advances of 5 to 14 points soon after the opening today, the cotton market fell off under liquidating sales from the long sides and traded 8 to 16 points under the close of last week. October rose to 28.54 and reacted to 28.38. A private crop report which made the percentage of condition 50.6 and the indicated yield 10,600,000 bales, seemed to be regarded as much of a stand-off.

Cotton futures opened steady:
October 28.45
December 28.33

EDITH GOULD IN VAUDEVILLE ACT

(By The Chicago Tribune Service)

PARIS, Sept. 22—Edith Kelly Gould opened a vaudeville act at the Alhambra Theatre last night which was a howling success, with doubled police guard and firemen and a band of private detectives to prevent her husband, Frank J. Gould, from grabbing the act as he had threatened because she is using his name. Mr. Gould is seeking an injunction in the French court and had threatened to rip down the bill posters and seize the programs and everything else, including the black velvet back drop, bearing the word "Gould."

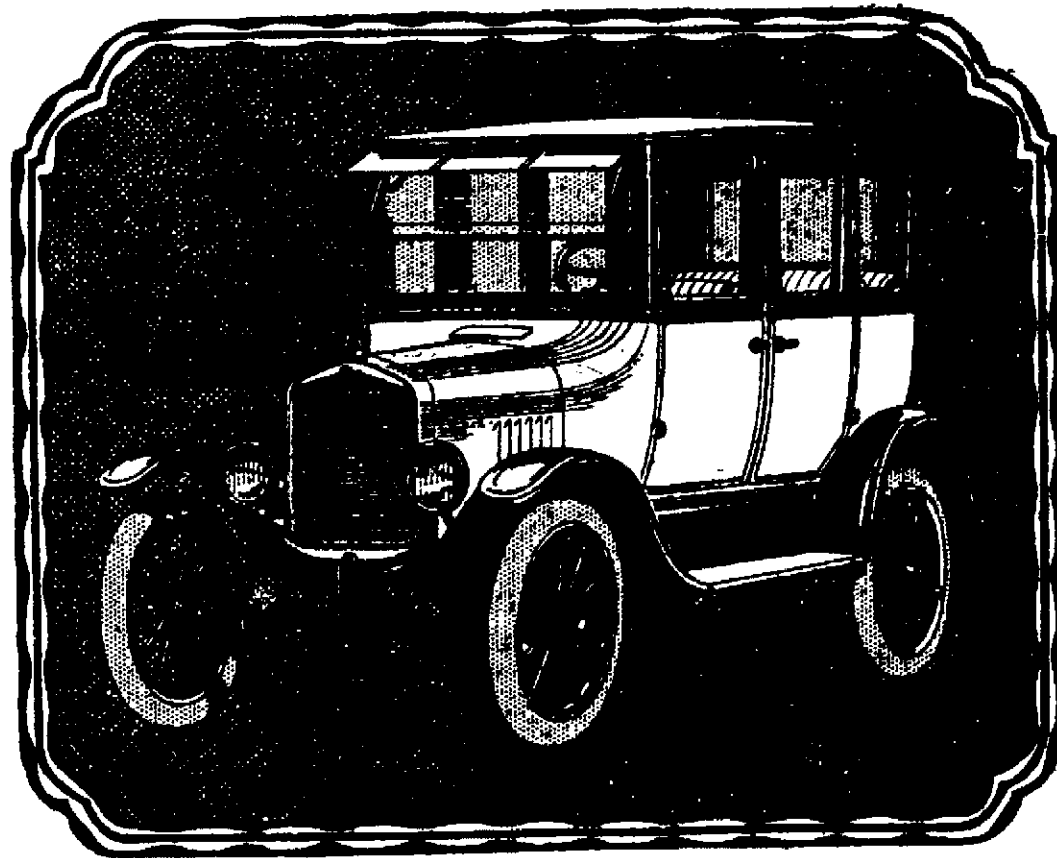

Edith knocked the fashionable audience of every prominent American in France except one—Mr. Gould himself—off their seats with her sensational dancing, bare legged and in a backless, low cut gown, with a special jazz band playing the latest American song hits.

Even chauffeurs of society folks' limousines who squandered three francs, the admission fee, were moved to applause, especially when the band rapped out "Dixie" and Edith almost tied herself into knots.

Alfred De Courville came from London to especially stage the act.

—Miss Lily May Carter is at the General hospital, where she was taken following an attack of appendicitis.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

New Sedan

Changes featured in the new Ford Sedan make it a better looking, roomier car.

A higher radiator with a trim apron at its base lends dignity befitting a closed car. The higher hood and enlarged cowl curving gracefully to the dash give a stylish sweep to its body lines, and afford additional leg room for occupants of the front seat.

All body fittings—window regulators, door grips, door latch lever, door lock, dome light—are finished in nickel. The upholstery carries a fine dark line on a soft brown background that does not easily show dust or dirt. Silk window curtains to harmonize for the three rear windows enhance the style of the car and add to the comfort of its passengers. See the other new Ford body styles at your nearest dealer's showroom.
